

Entrepreneurship Inclusive Education for Children of Fishing Community

Dr. Ike Junita Triwardhani

Designation: Lecturer, Organization: Fikom Unisba, Email ID: junitatriwardhani@yahoo.com

Dr. O. Hasbiansyah

Designation: Lecturer, Organization: Fikom Unisba, Email ID: hasbians@yahoo.com

Dr. Anne Maryani

Designation: Lecturer, Organization: Fikom Unisba, Email ID: anmar2005@gmail.com

Dede Lilis Ch., M.Si.

Designation: Lecture, Organization: Fikom Unisba, Email ID: delilisubandy@gmail.com

Abstract

The issue of national competitiveness is important in today's era of global competition. Competitiveness is determined by the character of the community. Therefore, it is necessary to build the character of the people who have the drive to get high, powerful, adaptive, and innovative achievement. Entrepreneurial paradigm can be a paradigm in developing the character of a nation, because this paradigm considers problem as potency to change for the better. In view of the entrepreneurial paradigm, the problems of the poor are considered to have a high and adaptive survival ability, moreover to be able to develop a network of professionals in the informal sector, instead of often being marginalized. Entrepreneurial potential in these poor communities are still latent and neglected, so it needs to be explored more seriously. The research used ethnography communication, and involved some teacher and community as a key informan. The data collected through interview, focus group discussion (FGD), observation, documentation and literature studies. The implementation of the entrepreneurship inclusive education for children of fishing community expected will improve entrepreneurial spirit that important as a character building and nation's future investments. Therefore, value cultivation of entrepreneurship through inclusive education for children of poor fishing communities is strategic and realistic things. Inclusive education with the spirit of education for all enables children of poor fishermen to obtain educational services on part with the others. Thus, they will have the confidence to handling his cultural and structural barriers in order to build their entrepreneurial characters.

Keywords: children of poor fishermen, entrepreneurship paradigm, inclusive education.

I. INTRODUCTION

The increase in the nation's competitiveness capacity becomes very important. One of them is to develop entrepreneurship spirit to become a choice deserve the attention, because entrepreneurship will bring major changes to a nation's economic power. It is supported by basic characters owned by an entrepreneur. McGraith and Mac Millan (in Modul Kewirausahaan, 2010: 16) states that there are seven basic characters every future entrepreneur must have, namely action-oriented, thinking simply, always searching for new opportunities, chasing opportunities with high discipline, only taking the best opportunity, focusing on execution and